WE ARE SERENITY

Coming from a variety of backgrounds including yoga, holistic healing, culinary, and visual arts, as well as the renewable energy and cannabis industries, the commonality that brought our team together is a desire to heal and help people. We, just as you, have had our collective share of injuries and traumas that we carry with us and that have shaped who we are. We are deeply inspired by the abundance of resources provided by nature and its ability to heal and transform. We believe it is our responsibility to assist humankind on a unified quest to find harmony with each other and our environment.
